U. S. And Britain Agree To Set Up German Council

To Initiate Policies For Economic Reconstruction In Their Zones In Germany

FRANCE AND RUSSIA INVITED TO JOIN

By GEORGE HERALD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FRANKFURT, May 29.—The United States and Britain announced today they have reached an agreement to set up a German council to initiate policies for the economic reconstruction in their zones as an integrated area.

France and Russia were invited to incorporate their zones in the economic merger. The announcement:

"Both the United Kingdom and the United States military governments hope that the other occupying powers will accept their standing invitation in this economic integration."

Plan Adopted

The plan for reconstruction was adopted by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, and Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British deputy military governor.

The German economic council will be composed of representatives of the lender (states) who will be selected by their respective parliaments.

The council will propose to the military governments general policies for permissible economic reconstruction in accordance with the principles of the Potsdam agreement.

In addition, an executive committee will be formed which will coordinate and supervise the work of bi-zonal economic agencies subject to approval of the two military governments.

The text of the Anglo-American agreement and the proclamation putting it into effect will be made public within a few days.

Pennsy Requests Pittsburgh - Erie Runs Be Cancelled

Pennsylvania Railroad officials today sought permission of the Public Utility Commission to discontinue two trains linking Pittsburgh and Erie.

Train 415 leaves Pittsburgh at 7 a. m., arrives in New Castle at 8:40 a. m., and in Erie at 11:40. The evening train leaves Erie at 3:15 p. m., arrives in New Castle at 6:35 and pulls into Pittsburgh at 8 p. m. All times mentioned are Eastern Standard.

Pa Newc Observes

Pa Newc received a note from a reader in the Chewton area. The reader reported that he had seen a young energetic farmer at 11:15 at night, out plowing his field using his little red jeep with the car's headlights providing the light for him to see with while plowing. The farmer had taken advantage of the nice day and wanted to get as much ground plowed as possible before another rain storm.

This suggestion we've heard lately about pedestrians on the road at night carrying a light or reflector isn't just idle chatter. There's safety first common sense in the idea that someone on the road if he doesn't carry a light, should hang a reflector on his sleeve or belt where it will catch the light from the oncoming car and warn the driver "Man afoot dead ahead."

Officer Found Guilty In Jewel Trial In Japan

By JOHN EMERY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

YOKOHAMA, May 29.—A brilliant military career that spanned both world wars came to the threshold of an ignominious end today for Col. Edward J. Murray of Palo, Calif.

The oft-decorated war hero, who fell victim to the allure of glittering gems placed in his trust, was found guilty by an Eighth Army Court Martial Board in Yokohama of misappropriating a fortune in Japanese diamonds and other jewels.

Convicted also of conduct unbecoming an officer, the middle-aged Murray was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and to ten years at hard labor.

The colonel stood rigidly at attention as the stern verdict was read in solemn tones by the head of the military tribunal, Maj. Gen. Williams Chase, commander of the First Cavalry Division.

The general announced the court martial board had found Col. Murray guilty of "all counts and specifications" lodged against him after he was arrested in San Francisco February 3 by customs officials who (Continued on Page Two)

Warning Given For Motorists

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—State police sounded a warning note today for Memorial Day week-end motorists.

Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm stated that local commanders were instructed to place "every available man" on the highways during the long week-end.

"A new high in the number of cars on the road is expected," he said. "Traffic density and flow will be carefully studied to assure the most effective distribution of state police."

"While the state police will make every effort to protect those using the highways, each driver and pedestrian must realize his responsibility. Unless everyone drives and walks with care, many lives will be lost."

MAY FORM CABINET

ROME, May 29.—(INS)—Premier-designate Alcide De Gasperi expressed confidence he will be able to form a new cabinet today and political observers predicted it will exclude Communists and Leftwing Socialists.

De Gasperi's chances of success were bettered by a decision of the Rightwing Socialists led by Giuseppe Saragat to permit "technicians" from their ranks to serve with the Christian Democrats and other small Leftist parties in a coalition.

President Is Returning To White House

(BULLETIN)

KANSAS CITY, May 29.—(INS)—President Truman left by plane today for Washington, after a 12-day vigil at the bedside of his ailing 94-year-old mother.

The presidential plane, the "Flying White House," took off from Fairfax airport at 8:06 a. m. (CST), and was due in Washington about 2 p. m. (EDT).

The president's return to Washington followed assurance from physicians attending his mother that she was winning her remarkable battle against an illness precipitated by a hip fracture.

As he boarded the plane, Mr. Truman said that his mother was "on the mend". After a telephone conversation with his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman in nearby Grandview, he said:

"She is still on the mend, thank goodness."

Accompanied by Family
The president was accompanied on his return flight by his wife and daughter, Margaret, and members of the White House staff.

On his return to Washington, the president will be in the capital only about a week.

He is scheduled to fly back to his Missouri home on June 6 to attend a reunion of his world war division, the 31st.

He will address the reunion Saturday night June 7, in the municipal auditorium. The occasion will be memorial observance for the soldier dead of the division of both world wars.

All traffic between here and New Castle has been over the "lower" road since 18 was closed for repairs. Yesterday, route 278 was closed between New Wilmington and the intersection with 18. A dangerous curve will be eliminated on this road.

New Wilmington Is Detour Center

NEW WILMINGTON, May 29.—It is becoming more difficult each day to get in and out of New Wilmington as the result of road construction.

High Schools To Graduate 81,000 In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—More than 81,000 pupils will be graduated from public high schools throughout the state in commencement exercises from now until the end of June.

Summer vacations also will drop its provisions making the cuts retroactive to last January and accept the Senate's July 1 effective date.

They hinted that the "trading" would come in on tailoring the big 20 per cent reduction bracket, which affects most taxpayers. The House version granted a 20 per cent slash on taxable incomes from $1,395 to $302,000. The Senate limited it to incomes between $1,395 and $79,400.

A compromise ceiling of $100,000 or $125,000, at which point the reduction would drop to 15 per cent, was considered likely.

House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., said the final agreement would not be called up in the House before next Wednesday, although Senate conferees were counting on action sending the bill to the White House Monday or Tuesday.

Martin, it was understood, will be absent from the Capital until Wednesday.

Corry Man Says He Paid $206,000 To Secure Steel

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—A Corry, Pa., manufacturer testified today that he paid $206,000 in "premiums" to get sheet steel in the "Gray Market" which he warned is forcing small businessmen to close their plants.

The witness, David Hillstrom, president of the Corry-Jamestown Corp., told his story as Herbert M. Karp, of New York, the "missing" witness of the Senate Small Business investigation awaited his turn to testify. Karp was finally subpoenaed last night when he flew to Washington from Chicago. He has been identified in earlier testimony as the mysterious middle man in a "fantastic" 300,000 ton sheet steel transaction which never completely materialized.

Conferees Are Preparing Tax Bill For Truman

Senate Passes Measure For Four Billion Cut In Annual Taxes

FORECASTS MADE OF TRUMAN VETO

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—House and Senate conferees sat down today for what GOP leaders forecast would be "agreement in one day" on the Senate's July 1 date for cutting income taxes from 10½ to 30 per cent.

The bill to give the nation's taxpayers an annual saving of four billion dollars passed the Senate by a 52-34 vote but fell short of the two-thirds necessary to override a Presidential veto.

Conferee Named

Both houses promptly named conferees to compromise the differences between the bills passed in each chamber.

Leaders on each side indicated that the House readily would drop its provisions making the cuts retroactive to last January and accept the Senate's July 1 effective date.

They hinted that the "trading" would come in on tailoring the big 20 per cent reduction bracket, which affects most taxpayers. The House version granted a 20 per cent slash on taxable incomes from $1,395 to $302,000. The Senate limited it to incomes between $1,395 and $79,400.

Sudden Upsurge In Lake Waters Is Reported—Some Damage Caused

KENOSHA, Wis., May 29.—(INS)—Coast guard crews from Kenosha and Racine searched Lake Michigan today for an overdue fishing boat which may have been damaged by a sudden upsurge in lake waters.

The boat, the G. W. McDonald, was scheduled to dock in Racine early last night. Two lifeboat crews from Racine searched throughout the night but reported no trace of the vessel.

The crew from Kenosha gave up the search until morning because of the rough water.

Final preparations have been made for the impressive Memorial Day field military mass to be offered in St. Mary's cemetery Friday, Memorial Day, at 10 a. m. sponsored by the St. Mary's branch of the Holy Name society.

In case of inclement weather, Rev. Fr. Francis Kirk, spiritual director of the society, announced that the mass will be offered in St. Mary's church.

However, if good weather prevails, mass will be at the cemetery and those needing transportation will be able to get bus service from 8 a. m. on from the church premises.

Approximately 500 members of the society will don their uniforms for the ceremonies. A special choir of 100 voices will sing the beautiful Missa Salvé Regina.

Marshall Hunts Man To Head Greek Aid

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall today was reported to be scouting still for a first rate, able figure to administer the Greek-Turkish aid program.

This was said to be the only thing standing in the way of an early announcement of the composition of the 40-man commission which will speed to Greece to implement the Truman doctrine in the strategic country.

All other members of the commission, primarily experts in the varied fields of finance, administration and economy, were said to have been chosen.

Final Barrier Removed

The final barrier to carrying out the program—with the exception of the selection of a head—was removed yesterday when Marshall received 100 million dollars from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This sum is to tide the operation over until the House Appropriations committee votes the 400 million dollars authorized by Congress.

Marshall has said that he cannot at the moment supply the appropriations committee chairman, Rep. John Taber (R) N. Y., with specific details of how the money will be spent. Taber has said that he will not approve the appropriation until these details are supplied.

This situation was expected to compel Marshall to get his men into the field as speedily as possible in order to gather details to Taber's satisfaction. Since Congress expects to adjourn around mid-July, the task has become imperative.

Class Day For Seniors At High

Graduating Class Of 1947 Has Program At School Today

FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY IN CLASS

The June class of 1947 of the New Castle Senior High school wound up its last year of school this morning with an entertaining program presented during the traditional class day of the graduates in the high school auditorium.

The stage setting was nautical with the class using the theme, "The Good Ship 1947." On one side of the stage stood the captain's cabin while on the other side sat the class day band under the direction of Jim Hamilton. A gangplank led from the auditorium up onto the stage.

Many of the actors including "Captain" Oestling and "Stogie" Chester Shofar wore naval uniforms. The program consisted of colorful dances, music, and skits in which students and teachers alike receive a good-natured ribbing.

At the conclusion of the last act, the entire Senior class marched up into the ship and the gangplank was hoisted. The "Good Ship 1947" sailed away and literally, if the rain that was falling at the conclusion of the program continued through the day, to Idora Park. (Continued on Page Two)

Urges Lend-Lease Aid For Britain In German Zone

MARGATE, Eng., May 29.—(INS)—A leader of the British Labor Party Leftwing advocated today that the United States re-establish lend-lease to supply food and raw materials to Britain's occupation zone in Germany.

Richard H. S. Crossman, a member of parliament, told the annual Labor Party Conference at Margate.

"If the Americans are going to work with us successfully in these two zones it should be on a basis of lend-lease."

In the course of a heated discussion, Tom Driberg, member of parliament, and a former newspaper columnist, urged the government to disentangle itself from "the hysterical chaos of American economy."

Search Is Made For Woman's Body In Slippery Rock

Aliquippa Woman Drowns In Slippery Rock Creek At McConnell's Mills

SLIPPED OFF ROCK INTO RAGING WATER

State and City police, Ellwood City, and New Castle Fire department rescue squads, last night and today, searched for the body of Miss Mary Zatezalo, 29, of 222 Highland Avenue, Aliquippa, who was drowned in the Slippery Rock creek at McConnell's Mills, about 3:40 p. m. Wednesday.

According to Mike Pericelli, 41, 317 Fourteenth Street, Ambbridge, with whom Miss Zatezalo went on a fishing trip, he was fishing, one-half mile above the mill when he heard several screams.

He hurried back to a big rock, where, with her shoes off, Miss Zatezalo had been lying when he left. He discovered a snake upon the rock, and it is believed possible that the woman may have seen the snake, and becoming frightened, attempted to move and slipped into the raging water, which is 14 to 25 feet deep, at that point.

Pericelli went to a nearby farmhouse, and called the Butler barracks of the State police, who immediately sent a detail, accompanied by a deputy coroner of Butler county, to the drowning scene.

Learning the drowning had occurred in Lawrence county, they notified State and City police here and Deputy Coroner Peter Rupp. They immediately went to the scene.

The city police took with them two life-boats. The New Castle Fire department and Ellwood City rescue squads responded. The latter set up their portable illumination system.

The Slippery Rock creek, which is high and raging, was combed for the body. Search was temporarily abandoned at one a. m. today, but was resumed early this morning.

State police have detained Pericelli, pending an investigation.

The death toll for the first four months this year was listed as 9,250.

DEFENSE STARTS IN CLEARFIELD TRIAL IN WOMAN'S DEATH

CLEARFIELD, Pa., May 29.—(INS)—Defense testimony was expected to be completed today in the trial of Joseph Goldscheider, charged with slaying his wife, Marian, last March 11.

The state completed its testimony in the case yesterday, and the defense called its first witnesses at a special night session of the court last night.

Judge P. Cortez Bell denied a defense motion for dismissal of the suit on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

On the stand last night, Goldscheider denied making any statements to police at the time of his arrest following his wife's death.

You get dressed up in your brand new suit, with a brilliant shine on your shoes; the air is balmy and also sweet, and the sky is a pattern of blues. When suddenly while you turn your head or stop for a lunch or a smoke, a cloud comes up and before you know, a whale of a rain-storm has broke. And your brand new suit is a sodden mess, and your shine has all slipped away, so you trudge on home to get other duds—its seventy-four today.

informed that President Truman will veto the tax bill but approve the compromise labor bill, which will reach him about the same time.

Mr. Truman has gone on record repeatedly as being opposed to tax reductions at this time. Senate Democrats, apparently counting on a tax bill veto, went out of their way in closing speeches to attack the GOP bill.

Seven Democrats broke from the minority line and voted with Republicans to pass the bill. They were Sens. George G. Hovey, N. C.; McCarran, Nev.; O'Connor, Md.; Daniel Texas Stewart Tenn.; and Umstead, N. C.

Only two Republicans—Sens. Cooper, Ky., and Langer, N. D.—deserted their colleagues to oppose the measure on final passage.

Although the Republicans' "campaign pledge" bill reflects tax cuts immediately on July 1 through lowered withholding rates, the total savings for the year 1947 will be just one-half the 30 to 10 per cent.

All efforts to boost personal exemptions, permit husbands and wives to split incomes for tax purposes or otherwise alter the GOP bill were rejected in the Senate. The reductions finally approved thus would give: Thirty per cent cut up to $10,000 of taxable income; 30 to 20 per cent from $10,000 to $13,950; 20 per cent from $13,950 to $19,400; 15 per cent from $19,400 to $302,000; and 10 per cent above $302,000.

All persons over 65 get an additional $500 exemption.

The coast guard said the lake from received the worst pounding in history from the upsurge.

A Marquette university physicist said the swell could have been caused by the sinking of rocks on the lake floor. He said this would have caused the water to drop, then roll back toward the shore.

No one was reported injured.

Big Cut Made In Army Funds

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—The unrelenting Republican economy drive cut into President Truman's 1948 budget again today when the house appropriations committee reduced funds for the army by 475 million dollars over the protests of Gen. Eisenhower and War Secretary Patterson.

In effecting the economy, the committee slashed eight per cent from $5,996,791,500 requested for army operations in the coming fiscal year. The committee-approved budget allows $5,520,982,423.

The cut was made in disregard of warnings by both Eisenhower and Patterson that rock-bottom economies had been attained before the budget request reached the committee.

The budget cut will compel the firing of 74,631 civilian war department employees and the dismissal of 20,500 officers who will be replaced by enlisted men.

Eisenhower warned the committee during hearings that the budget had been computed for an army of one million 700 thousand men and that the funds requested represented "the maximum degree of economy which the present world situation permits."

MOTHERS' BANQUET FOR TRINITY GUILD

At 6:30 o'clock in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church Wednesday evening, members of the Junior Guild of Trinity Episcopal church with their mothers as special guests served themselves buffet style to a bountiful tureen dinner from a banquet table decorated with a large spray of white lilies. Guests took places at dinner tables centered with arrangements of lilies-of-the-valley and blue bachelor buttons.

On view were the new furnishings and lights added to the guild room during the past season by the junior guild. Decorations and furnishings were effectively set off against the freshly painted walls.

Mrs. Francis S. Sowersby acted as toastmistress and read a poem about mothers and then presented Mrs. Joseph W. Pearson, who gave the toast to mothers. Response was given by Mrs. Leslie Brindle.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Joseph W. Pearson; vice president, Mrs. Frank Clark; recording secretary, Naomi Surridge; treasurer, Sally Norris.

Special feature of entertainment was a one-act playlet, "The Stuffed Owl" presented by a cast of Federation Junior members. Mrs. Clinton R. Kennedy introduced the cast. Taking part were Mrs. Louis Hazen, Mrs. Frank Daugherty, Mrs. Francis S. Sowersby, Mrs. Francis Baldout, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Kennedy.

Economic Recession Not Stassen's Belief

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 29.—Harold Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota and a candidate for President, believes we will not have a serious economic recession in the near future. He believes we can regulate capitalism to sustain a high level of production.

As outlined in a previous column, in a question-and-answer interview I had with him, he gave reasons for his optimism. Here are further questions and answers growing out of our informal discussion of economic problems.

Childs: What about concentration and monopoly?

Stassen: That is a major phase of our problem. Particularly now, in our new position as the major creditor nation of the world, we need to encourage worldwide investment while at the same time developing a code of regulations to prevent international monopolies and cartels and old-style imperialism. The latter could be one of the causes of future world economic crises. The profit motive in a capitalist system causes a very natural urge toward monopolies as the easier method of obtaining profits. This trend must be checked on a worldwide basis.

New Subject
Childs: That is a new subject, is it not?

Stassen: Yes, and a very important one. If American capital is to go abroad with the Stars and Stripes to back it up, it is of very great importance that we give major consideration to the development of codes of conduct for that capital. In other words, the manner in which local populations are treated, the (Continued on Next Page)

When a woman buys a hat, she must ponder this and that. Will it suit the gown she's wearing? For the luncheon she attends? Will she have this shock to bear? To discover when she's there that more exactly like it. On the foreheads of her friends?

Woman, be she thin or fat, On her head must keep her hat. When she's at the luncheon table, For all others to explore. Not like man's; it has to be In full view for all to see. She can't leave her hat behind her With the check-girl at the door.

Hats for men, to suit the trade, By the millions can be made, For a man is never bothered By the things his fellows wear. But a woman's joy is gone She meets another one. And can see her bonnet bobbing On another woman's hair. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

DOG HAIR
Did you ever see the hair on a dog's back rise and stand up straight? Talk about the hair standing on end!

Talk about the effect of the mind on the body! When a person is scared or worried the mouth gets dry. Grief will stop the appetite. The mind affects the body in a good many different ways. The body also affects the mind somewhat.

Maybe when Mrs. Noah wanted a new bathing suit she picked up some apples floating on the water and made a nice apple pie for her old man.

Along about Easter time, Dad gets pretty popular around the house. Mother and the girls take pretty good care of him.

Then on Easter Sunday they have new hats on their minds.

Forget-Me-Nots

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GOOD DISCIPLINE IN BABYHOOD

The infant who from the time of his birth is held to a schedule of eating and sleeping is fortunate indeed. On that account he and his mother will be happier almost immediately and certainly happier in months and years to come.

He will have established a good foundation of discipline so essential to good character and citizenship. He will have had training in learning to wait and in conforming to the needs of others rather than in forcing them to conform to him and his becoming a little tyrant of the nursery.

Adaptation To Schedule
His adaptation to schedule is a good foundation for preparing him to grow up among other people and get along happily with them. His mother will have had good practice at self-discipline, at learning to say "no" to herself, in good preparation for saying "no" to him effectively when she should later.

As any mother knows, it is very difficult to discipline herself so as to hold the infant and young child reasonably to a schedule. Often she has doubts and fears, and once in a great while she discovers that these doubts and fears have been justified. Then there is the other parent, the in-laws, and other relatives ready to charge her with hard heartedness if she doesn't take him up, teeter or rock him or carry him, or even drag him into bed with her, when at night he wakes up or at bedtime loathes to stay in bed.

Wary And Nervous
The mother may be very weary and nervous right now. Why let the baby annoy her with his cries when she could quiet and comfort him so easily? "And it will be only this time," she may say to herself. But she soon discovers to her sorrow that this time almost surely means next time and the next and that his habit of commanding her has grown to grave proportions.

Of course, the mother must use reason; there must be some exceptions at times. The infant's clothing may be hurting him or he may need medical attention, in which case, of course, the doctor should be called. Moreover, not all babies will adapt well to the same schedule and the schedule may need to be changed for the same baby as he grows older.

Needs A Schedule
Whatever the change, however, there still needs to be a schedule pretty faithfully followed, if guidance of the infant and young child is to be wholesome weeks, months, and years hence. I go into this matter at length in my bulletin, "A Baby Has Arrived," to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

It is amazing that a certain small group of pediatricians (baby doctors) are telling mothers to keep no account of schedule. In my judgment this teaching is more dangerous to mental health, character and citizenship than the wildest claims of progressive educators ever were. Juvenile delinquency? Wait till this (Continued on Next Page)

From Me To You

By MESEBALL

Remember tomorrow . . . it will be a day of no work for most . . . but take a moment at least to remember why it is a day of relaxation . . . Many fine men and women gave their most prized possession in order that we who are relaxing today might do so with fear of contradiction. Memorial Day is a day to say a prayer that comes from the bottom of your heart . . . to think back over the years . . . remember the men and women who died for you.

Over the bridge of yesterday
My thoughts have turned tonight
And out of the far-off distance
Comes a tender glowing light.

And centers around a friendship
That has lasted through time and tide
Though the chance and change of fortune
Has severed our pathways wide.

It may be that earth's to-morrows
Hold for us no meeting place;
It may be that only in heaven
I shall meet you face to face;

But when memory seeks a pleasant trip,
And the choice of a pathway comes,
I choose the bridge of yesterday
To the day when we were chums.

Bible Thought

And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 18:3.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Do you know the one thing that I envy woman?

Her tears.

As a man I must always be strong and stern and hard. No matter how miserable I may feel, I must never let the world see my misery.

No matter how near my heart may be to the breaking point, I must always follow my father's admonition many years ago when I lost my pet dog and burst into tears.

I was only ten years old then, but Dad said to me:

"Always remember you are a man, and men don't show their emotions."

Take a woman, on the other hand.

To her, tears are an aid, comfort and weapon.

No good cry to a woman is something like a river that has been locked in ice all winter.

The ice melts and the spring torrents rush down to sea, there is new life and new energy, and as the season goes on the water flows serenely and along the banks there is growth and life and joy.

Some time ago a friend of ours spoiled a pie she was baking.

She broke into sobs.

Her husband tried to console her, but to no use.

Finally he got impatient and said: "Oh, don't act like a baby, it's only a pie!"

Go away, you brute," she sobbed, "can't you let me enjoy myself?"

The husband laughed. She laughed. He kissed her. She kissed him.

"Let's get dressed and go out to dinner," he said.

So out they went—and for dessert he ordered her a big piece of pie, exactly the same kind she had burned (strawberry) with a big glob of ice cream on it.

And, just as along the river bank after the ice had burst, there was joy.

I think it is foolish to hide your emotions.

We certainly aren't ashamed of happiness. Why be ashamed of unhappiness?

What is there so wonderful about being hard and what is there so strong about being cold and without feeling?

Isn't that hardness just a shell to hide our weakness?

Isn't that nothing-makes-me-sick attitude only the fear of being considered a "sissy"?

Why must we all be so very much concerned with what other people think about us?

Are we responsible to Jones or Smith or Kelly for the way we live? There is a squirrel in our garden who comes up to me and eats out of my hand. It took me a long time to make him understand that I am his friend.

I am proud of that friendship. Maybe I am a sissy.

The squirrel doesn't think so. Maybe Jones or Smith or Kelly does.

What do I care? (Copyright, 1947, Koss Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ORDERING DINNER IN HOTEL
Question: Please instruct me as to how to order a dinner in a hotel dining room. Should the girl or her escort give her order?

Answer: First indicate the particular dinner you wish. Then mention your first course—appetizer. Next—soup (specify the kind); then the entrée (if any) and the main course; and the vegetables and salad you wish. The dessert and coffee are ordered after the salad has been eaten and the dishes taken away. If you wish to order a la carte, as few or as many dishes as you wish may be selected.

Usually, a man will ask his woman a companion what she wishes and order for both. However, she may correctly give her order direct to the waiter.

Question: When presenting silver to a newlywed should the bride's maiden initials be engraved thereon or her married initials?

Answer: Generally, the bride's maiden initials are marked on her silver and linen but some modern brides prefer to have their new initials on their things. If you have not heard the bride express her preference, have her silver marked with her maiden initials.

Question: Someone told me that I should not use the expression "girl friend" and "boy friend" when introducing. Should I?

Answer: That "someone" is correct. Omit "girl friend" and "boy friend." Correct form: "Miss Smith, this is Miss Jones," or "Miss Smith, this is Mr. Jones." Never introduce anyone as "My friend" as this will indicate to the other person being introduced that she is not your friend.

Question: Should thank you notes for wedding gifts be signed by both the prospective bride and groom?

Answer: No. They should be signed by the bride only. She should, however, make reference to how pleased "John is with the lovely silver vase."

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Tomorrow—Bridge-Breakfast.

Fantastic Errors Made By Government Bureaus
Present Setup Is Costly Comptroller General Says
Executive Commission Report To Be Made In 1949

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON, May 29.—In seeking evidence to show the necessity of a reorganization of the executive branch of government, congressional committees have uncovered some fantastic mistakes made by various bureaus. Elimination of overlapping bureaus and staffs is the prime purpose of H. R. 775, a bill which would establish a non-partisan committee to study the situation and report back to Congress what governmental duplication and deadwood has accumulated since World War I.

Rep. Clarence Brown (R), Ohio, is author of the bill. It will be sponsored in the Senate by Henry Cabot Lodge (R), Massachusetts.

Cited below are a few of the mistakes and errors Congress has uncovered in governmental operation:

For two years the American Battleship Monuments Commission was regarded by Senator Harry Byrd (D), Virginia, as his favorite government bureau, as it reported that it had only one employee. Then it discovered it had 38 unreported employees, who had been traveling outside the country.

The prize mistake was made by Postmaster General Robert Hannegan. After submitting his report to Congress, he discovered 53,000 "lost" employees he had forgotten to report.

It is said in Washington that it requires 10 bureaus and 10 staffs of experts to draw, approve and counter-sign a government check. Yet the list of fantastic mistakes which have been made would fill a good-sized book. Clerks, veterans, farmers entitled to a bonus, and who may have been entitled to 30 or 50 dollars, have received checks ranging from $300,000 to $5,000,000.

When the recipient returned the check and pointed out the mistake, he has frequently continued to receive a check for the same amount for a number of months.

PRESENT SETUP of the executive branch of the federal government, says United States Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren, "is a hodge-podge and crazy quilt of duplications, over-lapping and inconsistencies, with their attendant extravagance."

"The most necessary thing that I know of today along government lines is a thorough-going reorganization of the executive branch of the government. It should be done scientifically, but once the decision is made, then a bush ax or a meat cleaver should be used."

It is now recognized that the outstanding reason why the various attempts to reorganize the executive branch in the past have failed, is because it has been asked to reorganize itself. In the Brown-Lodge bill, Congress has decided to do this job itself, with the help of the public.

This bill provides for the establishment of a commission to make a thorough investigation of the executive branch, whose expenses account for 99 per cent of the cost of running the federal government, and recommend a reorganization that will promote economy and efficiency in the transaction of public business.

THE COMMISSION will be thoroughly representative. It will consist of 12 members, of which six will be citizens from private life and six will be public officials, all appointed on a bipartisan basis. Four of the members will be selected by the president, four by the president of the Senate and four by the House.

The commission will not make its report until January, 1949, after the new 81st Congress has been chosen and president has been elected. This will prevent the work of the commission from having any connection with the 1948 political campaign.

The enactment of the Brown-Lodge bill into law is regarded as so certain, that Washington is already speculating on the membership of the commission.

Among those prominently mentioned are ex-President Herbert Hoover, ex-Senator M. La Follette, Circuit Court Justice Learned Hand, Bernard Baruch, Dr. Karl T. Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, C. E. Wilson of the General Electric company, Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. William Henry Harrison of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

One of the most curious turn-about in modern history was recorded today with Soviet Russia's surprise announcement that it has abolished the death penalty.

The decision was somewhat puzzling on a number of scores. Among them was the fact that the first public declaration on the new policy was made by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

A mild-mannered, generally soft-spoken man, Vishinsky nevertheless was for years one of the most greatly-feared figures in the Bolshevik regime. As public prosecutor, he was instrumental in sending scores to their death in the "mass treason trials" which were a characteristic part of Soviet life a few years ago.

Integral Part For Ages
Capital punishment has been an integral part of the Russian ruling philosophy almost since the dawn of history.

France had its incredibly brutal revolution, and Torquemada's inquisition is a scarlet page in the history of Spain. England too was merciless to witches, traitors and brigands. But these were simply segments of history.

It probably was Ivan IV, known as "The Terrible," who glorified the death penalty in the Sixteenth Century. A successor, Basil Shuisky, had to reassure all ranks of Russian life that his dynasty would be a complete nullification of Ivan's career of brutality.

But it was not so long afterward that Catherine the Great fell into the habit of shooting off with his head and those who escaped with their lives died later amidst the gruesome horrors of the salt-mine.

Decapitation Not Unusual
It was not unusual for a writer to be decapitated for publishing an unfavorable book or pamphlet. Even in our own country, the troops of Czar Nicholas had no compunction about opening fire in the Moscow streets.

One such incident cost a thousand lives. And when revolutionary movements against the imperial autocracy mounted, Stolypin set up field courts martial to decree the death sentence in wholesale batches.

More recently—in 1934 to be exact—an assassin died away with Sergei Kirov, the Soviet chief at Leningrad, who happened to be a personal friend of Joseph Stalin. A total of 117 were placed in front of a firing squad before the secret police completed its work on this killing.

According to the new Soviet announcement, capital punishment is to be replaced by 25 years at hard labor, and Vishinsky explains the move on the grounds that the prospects of a long period of peace justify the measure.

Obviously the firing of state executioners means a saving in manpower on the reeling end. But prisoners in labor camps have to be fed, and Russia's food shortages are known to the world.

It adds up to an intriguing puzzle—once again what Winston Churchill called "a riddle inside an enigma."

Court Move Fails To Delay Start Of Soft Drink Taxes

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—The State Supreme Court refused Wednesday to assume original jurisdiction in a taxpayer's suit attacking the constitutionality of the soft drink tax enacted by the legislature.

The high court's decision precluded any eleventh hour hopes for the soft drink interests that the levy might not become effective June 1.

Marshall H. Morgan, counsel for Dominic Maida of Philadelphia, who initiated the suit, filed a bill in equity with the Dauphin county court shortly after the supreme court's refusal to take original jurisdiction.

A ruling by the Dauphin county court could be appealed to the State Supreme Court, but meantime the tax will become effective.

TWO HURT IN BLAST
PITTSBURGH, May 29.—(INS)—Two persons were in a Pittsburgh hospital in serious condition today following the explosion of an air compressor in a downtown home furnishings store.

T. W. Katten, 43, and Tony Swick, 19, received severe lacerations and other injuries when the compressor exploded as they were installing it late yesterday. Two others were slightly injured in the blast.

Katten suffered cuts on the right hip that required 50 stitches to close.

relationship between profits and local wages, the conditions of living, and the negotiations with local governments, will have a major influence upon future success and freedom in those areas and upon the future success of our own free economy in America.

Childs: In fact are we not likely to produce Communism by the old-style imperialistic approach?

Stassen: Yes, we are. That is one reason I emphasize the need for developing a new code for the conduct of capital abroad.

Childs: Do you feel that in recent years we have not looked closely enough at the control of monopoly at home?

Not Alert Enough
Stassen: The government has not been alert enough. One effect of the war was extreme concentrations and greater difficulties for small businesses. A major restraint on monopoly, in addition to direct enforcement of anti-monopoly laws, is to open up the avenues for new small business to begin, to compete and to grow.

Our present tax structure needs modification so new small businesses can keep a greater share of their profits for their own growth and expansion. Likewise there is a need to simplify governmental regulation as it affects small business, so that the administrative overhead placed upon a new enterprise does not in itself smother its growth.

For the future health of our entire economy, we need to give special attention to small business in America.

Childs: What about labor?

Another Major Factor
Stassen: That is another major factor in the total approach to regulation of a dynamic capitalistic economy. We are in need of new labor legislation and a new national labor policy to reduce the number of strikes and bring about a proper balance. As you know, I testified in detail upon this before the Senate Labor Committee in January.

We must be careful not to go too far in restrictions on labor. Minimum wage laws, and sound, strong labor unions are both important safeguards to prevent the drive for profits in a competitive capitalistic system from holding labor's share of the fruits of production at too low a level. If this is done, the result contributes to an economic crisis from which all suffer.

Childs: Is it not fairly clear that this was one of the important factors in the 1929-32 depression?

Stassen: Yes, I believe it was. We increased our national productivity and our profits through the '20s at a greater rate than we increased wages. Unions were weak, wages were held down, excessive consumer credit was used, and an installment basis. Consuming power lagged behind.

Had In Mind
Childs: Did you have this in mind when you gave your optimistic defense of the American system in your talk with Stalin?

Stassen: Yes, I did. The situation now is very much different from 1929. We do not have an over-extended consumer credit and we do not have wages lagging behind.

Also, in 1929 you had a satiated agricultural situation with a surplus of food and a depressed rural area. There is not now and will not be in the immediate future a true world surplus of food, and we do not have a depressed agriculture.

As I see it, these basic economic facts mean that we will have readjustments, but not a major depression. We have time to work out the long-term policy and broad regulations that will retain the dynamic and free qualities of our private capitalism without suffering the economic crises and crashes that have clouded its past productive accomplishments.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

exactly what it was and by what right Roosevelt agreed that Stalin should have ten billion dollars from Germany. That was never explained.

All peace treaties have to be sanctioned by the United States Senate. Under the Constitution of the United States they are made by and with the consent of the United States Senate. There was not a proposition of any kind put up to the United States Senate as to the terms of a peace treaty.

Time has come and gone. It has been two years since hostilities ceased both East and West, and the nearest approach to any settlement is a peace treaty with Italy and a few other European States now before the Senate. And the Senate had better dispose of it just as quickly as they know how; get that much settled. The Lord only knows when anything can be done about the peace treaty with Germany. Stalin has taken away everything moveable from the area in Germany of which Russian forces have possessed themselves, together with several million Germans who are at the present time working in rags and poverty, without pay, as Russian prisoners. Russia has gotten that much.

U. S. Receives Nothing
The United States has not received a nickel; Great Britain has not received a nickel. To date, no one has benefited a nickel by reason of the victory of the Allied forces, except Russia and China. Russia wants the whole thing. She has taken Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary and Austria—actually taken them and occupying them, and demanding that the peace treaties shall officially recognize the taking as only Russia's right. Mr. Molotov is not satisfied with what Russia has taken from Germany. He wants the rich Saar—the coal and iron ore in the Saar Valley. France would like that, too. As far as "To the Victorious Belong the Spoils," the United States is entitled to the whole Saar Valley—everything south of Berlin and Great Britain is entitled to everything west of Berlin. Our forces were very indifferent as to who walked into Berlin. We let Russia do that. The fact of the matter is that possession is nine points of the law. Russia has gotten the best of the argument thus far, and that is what the United Nations means to Great Britain and the United States.

By the way, has there been any actual balance sheet struck by the Treasurer of the United Nations? (Who is he, anyway?) As to the financial condition of the United Nations and this great International Bank, what has it been doing? How much money has it in the Treasury? I will wager that the only money in the Treasury of the United Nations has been contributed by the U. S. A. and in addition, the U. S. A. has charitably donated to all the nations of Europe many billions of dollars in food and money, and there has been no account made of all these donations.

In view of all that we have done and all that Russia has taken, judging from the newspaper stories of how valuable is the Russian ruble, it would seem that Russia is pretty nearly broke. According to these stories diplomats may get twelve rubles for a dollar. Late last year newspaper men in adjoining countries—Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria—got twenty-three rubles for a dollar. By late winter holders of rubles outside of Russia would give eighty-three for a dollar. Now rubles are changing hands for one hundred for a dollar—one cent as against the official exchange value of eighteen and nine-tenths cent each. Thus do the citizens of nations bordering on Russia signal through the iron curtain the terrible poverty of the Soviet economy.

Now the world knows that the citizens of Russia are as poor as Job's turkeys. As far as the world knows, none but the various insiders, like Stalin, Molotov and Gromyko have any money with which to exchange for caviar and vodka. What is Russia doing with everything she has taken? She is not dividing up among her people. I believe it is just another case where the rulers take all. And where does the United Nations come in?

If there ever was an example of visionary planning, it was the plan of Bretton Woods.

Gen. Eisenhower Gives Testimony In May's Trial

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, testified today that ex-Rep. May (D) Ky., asked him to intervene in the court martial of Capt. Joseph Garsson, son of War Contractor Murray Garsson.

Eisenhower was a defense witness at the conspiracy trial of the former house military committee chairman and Henry and Murray Garsson.

A ruling by Judge Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut prevented the general from saying whether May's letters resulted in any action on his part.

Eisenhower also substantiated testimony by Secretary of State Marshall that the army's need for eight-inch shells was dropping in 1945, about the time that May vigorously protested a cutback on a shell contract held by the Garsson munitions combine.

Eisenhower testified that he was pressing for shell deliveries in September and November, 1944. However, in reply to a question concerning a war department telegram in April, 1945, he said:

"That had nothing to do with the European theater because our war was so nearly won."

Holy Trinity Military Mass Planned Friday

The young men who have paid the supreme sacrifice are: Stanley Sniezek, Julian Lyskowski, Bernard Suchy, Steve Grupa and Frank Ostapowicz. Over 165 young men and women of the parish served in the armed forces.

Rev. Lynch, a native of Ireland, was ordained at Erie in 1903. He served Roman Catholic parishes in Meadville, Reynoldsville, Driftwood, Curwensville, Grampan and Sharpville before coming to Oil City.

Upon her arrival in Europe with three other solo ice skaters, she will join the company being assembled for the first ice show to be produced in Paris. She says she is thrilled and "so excited" at being selected to take part in a production abroad. German Process Makes Beer Mats In Great Volume

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Science now can assemble beer mats almost faster than the bar-room Samsons can tear them apart.

The Commerce department today released a description of a new German process which starts with a splinter of wood and in two hours parlays it into little pulpboard discs to be shoved under overflowing steins.

The report, which will be of practically no interest to teetotalers and purists who put beer mats in the same class with panties on lamb chops, was compiled by British intelligence investigators.

The office of technical services of the Commerce department is now offering the report for sale to possible interested manufacturers.

The investigators found that the output of one German factory using four beer mat machines was 200,000 pulpboard dories a day, which would absorb the overflow from an impressive number of beer mugs.

A researcher who studied the report and made an abstract of it commented upon its publication: "The investigators thought it was a neat, cute machine and much better than anything in use for the purpose now."

WARINGS SEPARATED?

NEW YORK, May 29.—(INS)—Attorney John J. Vedon said today that Band Leader Fred Waring is being sued for separation by his wife, the former Evelyn Nair, who once danced with his orchestra.

Vedon, Mrs. Waring's lawyer, said Waring has been served with a summons and complaint, but would not comment further.

Charge Woman Married Three

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—(INS)—Mary Carol Harrington of Pittsburgh was in Allegheny county jail today, all because she wanted apparently, to make marriage a career.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation told Federal Judge Nelson McVicar she had married Eugene F. Sylvies in Los Angeles, Francis J. Kurzak in Santa Ana, Cal., Robert J. Harrington in Fairfield, Cal., and Bennie Estrada in Pittsburgh.

The FBI said she didn't bother to divorce any but Sylvies, and that she received allotment checks during the war from Coastguardsman Kurzak and Sailor Estrada at the same time.

Judge McVicar sentenced her to four months in jail.

Judah's Unsteady Course

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Hezekiah destroying the idols.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of Jehovah."—Psalm 122:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 1 is II Kings 18-20, II Chronicles 29, the Memory Verse being Psalm 122:1. "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of Jehovah.")

"Hezekiah began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem." His first act, "in the first year of his reign, in the first month," was to open the doors of the house of the Lord and repair them.

Then he brought in the priests and the Levites and told them to sanctify themselves and to thoroughly clean the temple. "For," he said, "our fathers have trespassed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and have forsaken Him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the Lord, and turned their backs."

The wrath of the Lord was upon the people, Hezekiah said, and he reminded them that many had fallen by the sword, "and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this."

The temple was cleansed thoroughly, and on the first day of the month the priests and Levites sanctified themselves, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the porch of the Lord. When all were ready the king rose early, gathered the rulers of the city, and "went up to the house of the Lord."

The sacrifices were killed and offered, and the king "set the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the commandments of David. . . . And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with trumpets." After the burnt offerings were made, "the king and all that were present with him bowed themselves, and worshipped."

Hezekiah also "removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brasen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it."

Also Hezekiah "rebelled against the king of Assyria and served him not. He smote the Philistines, even unto Gaza, and the borders thereof, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city."

Hezekiah nevertheless had one period of backsliding. In the fourteenth year of his reign the king of Assyria again attacked, and Hezekiah paid tribute to him and gave him "all the silver that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house;" also he "cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the Lord, and from the pillars which Hezekiah, king of Judah, had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Assyria."

Then the king of Assyria sent his messenger, Rabshakeh, to the Israelites with insolent messages, including king and even Jehovah, while the Assyrian armies encamped about the city of Jerusalem. He emphasized the greatness of the king of Assyria and the weakness of Egypt to whom the Israelites might look for help. He insisted again and again that Jehovah, the people's God, had not been able to protect them from their enemies. At the end of his speech he promised that if they would surrender without battle or further siege, he would take the people to a land that was as good as their own Palestine.

A letter was sent to the king, and Hezekiah, without even consulting Isaiah, dressed himself in sackcloth and went to the temple and prayed for deliverance. He said messengers to Isaiah, and Isaiah sent Hezekiah this message: "Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, with which the servant of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me. Behold I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumor, and shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land."

Angel of the Lord Strikes
That night "the angel of the Lord" struck the Assyrian army encamped about Jerusalem, and in the morning thousands were dead. The rest went back to their own land, and not long after, while the king of Assyria, Sennacherib, was worshipping in the house of his god, two of his sons killed him with a sword.

Now Hezekiah became ill and Isaiah came to him and said, "Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live." Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed earnestly, and word came to Isaiah that the Lord had changed his mind and that Hezekiah was to live for 15 years more. Tell him, said the Lord, "I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears; behold I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord." And so it was.

The king of Babylon had heard that Hezekiah had been ill and sent emissaries to him. Hezekiah showed them all his possessions, his gold and silver, etc., and when Isaiah was told he warned Hezekiah that in years to come these same people would take away all the possessions of the Israelites and the people themselves would be carried captive to Babylon. And so it came to pass, but not in Hezekiah's day. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

General Assembly Hears Legion Head Urge Army Training

National Commander Griffith Advocates Drafting Of Youths For Brief Service

HARRISBURG, May 29. — The General Assembly had an appeal today from National American Legion Commander Paul H. Griffiths, of Uniontown, to throw its influence behind a proposed compulsory military training plan.

Griffiths also urged enactment of legislation to outlaw Communism in an address to the State Senate.

He advocated support of a plan for drafting 18-year-old youths for a minimum four months training period in military centers. At the end of the required period, they would be free to choose from several courses of advanced training such as ROTC in college or other programs to fit in with civilian activities.

"It was imperative, he said, to 'build up national defense' to curb international Communist aggressiveness and halt inroads of 'reds' in American government."

The legislature was urged to memorialize Congress to enact a program to subject American youth to military training because "the time has come when we must call on all Americans to stand up for America."

The laws should be strengthened to permit the arrest of persons practicing or adhering to Communist ideologies to "make it more difficult for them to receive money and directions from abroad," he said.

"Opponents of such legislation arguing that it would drive Communists underground are fugitives from facts," Griffiths asserted. "Communists have always been underground."

National Guard To Drill Thursday

Weekly Drill Session Changed Because Of Memorial Day; Two More Veterans Signed Up

Because of the fact that Friday is Memorial Day, and might interfere with drill attendance, Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell has ordered drill night for the local units of the 229th Field Artillery, changed from Friday night to Thursday night. This applies only to this week.

The 229th Field Artillery has added two more World War Two veterans to its roster, it is announced. They are Sgt. John Edward Kerr, of 2 Elmwood avenue; and Pvt. Robert R. Harlan, of 98 Riverview avenue. Both will become members of Headquarters Battery, commanded by Capt. Benjamin E. Nessie.

The guard here still has many key positions which are as yet unfilled, Col. Mitchell states. There are special opportunities for radio men, wiremen, motor mechanics, and instrument men. All men who join this outfit will be given schooling in field artillery procedure and also the specific job to which they are assigned. Anyone interested in enlisting may get full details by applying at Cunningham Armory, Wednesday and Friday evenings, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

Act To Continue Shipments Of Food Past Dec. 31 Date

WASHINGTON, May 29. — (INS) — The 32-nation international emergency food council acts today on a proposal for continuing the allocation of food-stuffs to hungry countries after the council's scheduled death on December 31.

The council also is to set the date and place for a meeting of world food ministers proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to map plans for feeding needy nations. Action on these two proposals concludes the fourth meeting of the food organization amid warnings that world food supplies are at "the lowest ebb" and many nations still face a near-starvation diet.

The proposal for continuing food allocations calls for the council to recommend to its member governments that steps be taken to divide the world's food supply at least until June 30, 1948.

Present plans do not call for an extension of the council. The proposal would continue its activities, however, preferably under a permanent agency of the United Nations.

St. Paul's Lutheran Pastor To Observe Thirtieth Ordination Anniversary

REV. O. J. WARNATH

On Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock Rev. O. J. Warnath, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will observe his 30th ordination anniversary. Pastor Warnath was ordained in the gospel ministry by the Pittsburgh Synod in Zion's Lutheran church, Greensburg, Pa., Sunday, June 7, 1917.

His first charge was the English Lutheran church, Ridgway, Pa., from 1917 to 1922. He was then called to All Saints' Lutheran church, Philadelphia, Pa. He served that congregation for a period of 23 years. He began his ministry in New Castle, Sunday, May 13, 1945. Besides making extensive repairs in all the congregations which he has served, Rev. Warnath has liquidated the debts of two of his former congregations. Ridgway had an indebtedness of $10,500 and All Saints' debt amounted to $28,000.

St. Paul's had an indebtedness of over $10,000 when Rev. Warnath became its pastor. Last September a debt of $7,000 still rested upon the congregation. Thus far $6,000 has been paid upon that debt, and the entire mortgage amounting to $13,500 will be burned in November, 1947. Rev. A. W. Steinfurth, D. D., former high school chum of Pastor Warnath, and also former pastor of Zion's church, Greensburg, now minister of Calvary Lutheran church, Wilkensburg, Pa., will be the speaker. His sermon topic is entitled: "Welcome Heralds".

Much Activity In City Library

Remodelling And Extension Work Begins At Building At North And Mercer Streets

Drastically contrasting the usual quietness and thought provoking atmosphere that penetrates the Free Public library the place today resembles quite the opposite. Librarians and staff of workers are enjoying the liberty of treading upon their entire pedes in place of the usual tiptoeing and are taking advantage of vigorously exercising their vocal cords that are usually restrained to a mere whisper. Janitors are occasionally heard whistling a merry tune.

The task of moving an approximate total of 3,500 books is rather pleasurable under this informality. No dirty faces were seen early this morning however the ladies were wearing kerchiefs on their heads and gloves, working gloves that is.

Circulation on Tuesday reached a total of 1238, 708 of which were from the Junior department, an increase of 622 on May 24 with an increase of 451 in the Junior department.

No books will fall due during the period the library is closed as they will automatically be renewed. A desk in the vestibule of the Mercer street, entrance will receive books that are returned.

The library will be closed approximately one month while new shelving and a new lighting system are installed. Construction will begin on Monday, June 2.

FINDERS KEEP?—WEEPERS?
HARRISBURG, Pa., (INS)—A bill has been introduced in Pennsylvania's General Assembly which would make unlawful the old "finders keepers, losers weepers" idea. Rep. Edward J. Griffiths (R) Philadelphia, sponsored the measure to require persons finding money, goods or property to turn it in to local police. Griffiths' bill would require the police to return the money or goods to the finder if he claimed for six months. The measure provided that persons not reporting money or goods found by themselves could be fined "double the value" of the goods or money.

Sec. Marshall Testifies In Trial Of May

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall testified Wednesday that the army's need for eight-inch shells was being heavily reduced in 1945. Just about the time ex-Rep. May (D) Ky., fought against a cutback in a shell contract held by war contractors Henry and Murray Garsson.

The secretary, army chief of staff during the war, appeared as a defense witness at the May-Garsson conspiracy trial.

The question about eight-inch shells needs was put by Prosecutor William A. Paisley, in an attempt to discredit May's testimony that he protested the cutback because Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Allied Commander, had called for more shells. Several War Department officials testified that May protested the contract cutback in May, 1945.

Paisley asked Secretary Marshall: "Did you ever discuss the eight-inch shell with May?" Marshall replied: "I've no recollection of such a discussion directly with May. I may have discussed the matter with groups of which he was a member in 1944."

Q. "In May and June of 1945 was there a great demand for eight-inch shells or were there cutbacks?" A. "There were very heavy cutbacks, excepting for aviation bombs."

Marshall was asked by defense attorney Charles J. Margiotti what he knew of May's reputation for "honesty and integrity." He replied: "That question never came up in my mind at all. I judged May to be a man of integrity and I heard no comments to the contrary."

The secretary stated that he had no personal knowledge of any of the facts in the conspiracy case or of the relationship between May and the Garssons or their companies.

Wampum Rotarians Ready For Their Annual Horse Show On June 6-7

One week from today the long trek of blooded horses will begin into Wampum. The annual Rotary horse show will open on Friday, June 6, and for two days Wampum will be the headquarters of equine blue bloods.

Over 100 entries have been received for the show which will take place at Pleasant Valley farm, just outside Wampum. Fine harness horses, jumpers, saddle horses, all of them pedigreed and all of them will be striving for the ribbons that denote the winners.

The annual horse show staged by the Wampum Rotary club has become a tradition in this county. Not only that, but owners of the finer steeds envy a Wampum show ribbon for their collection.

There will be three sessions of the show. Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. The ring is lighted for night showings and if the attendance rivals that of the past three years there will be a crowd.

HANEY'S

Examine Secret FBI Findings On Missouri Primary

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—A congressional committee Wednesday examined a secret FBI report on alleged election frauds in the Missouri Democratic primary last August as Kansas City ballot boxes aid to contain evidence of irregularities were filed.

Amid developing indications of a major battle between top federal officials and Missouri authorities over President Truman's "purge" of former Rep. Roger Slaughter, word of the ballot box theft created a sensation on Capitol Hill.

The boxes, allegedly containing evidence supporting a Kansas City grand jury charge that Slaughter lost the primary election to Enos Axtell because of a "miscount" were removed from a locked vault in the Jackson county court house.

The containers were forced open and ballots from an undetermined number of precincts were taken.

The grand jury yesterday returned 78 vote fraud indictments, based largely on the now missing ballots. The FBI report scrutinized by a senate judiciary subcommittee investigating the Slaughter-Axtell vote was based on an investigation ordered by Attorney General Clark, who declared that no evidence of federal law violation had been unearthed.

The Kansas City grand jury, however, demanded a new and sweeping federal inquiry into the "purge" primary.

Army Photographer At Nazi Hangings Reveals Feelings

LANDSBERG, Germany, May 29.—(INS)—A United States army sergeant who acted as official photographer for the hanging of 48 convicted Nazi prison camp torturers told International News Service on Wednesday of his reactions to the task.

The sergeant whose identity is kept secret, said:

"My job is to take one shot on the gallows and one of the corpse before it is put in its casket."

"The worst moment for me is on the gallows. They stand up and glare back at me from only two feet away a moment before they die."

"They glare and the way they look at you shows they hate your guts and want you to know it. That's what makes me feel kind of funny."

"I know they are murderers and deserve it, but some can take it like a man—others are yellow and break down."

"There is one other moment when I feel strange. That is in the dark room when I watch their faces coming up through the developer."

"Mass executions don't bother me much, but somehow the first two or three are always hard to take. After that, you get used to it. Some sob and say something, and others just shake their heads when the interpreter asks for a last statement."

"That's when I really can gauge my man."

Why, oh why did I ever leave Wyoming?
Listen, partner, to my tale of woe:
It's all because I stole a kiss
From a gal in Calico.

I was sittin' by the old corral
Near the Silver Spur Saloon
Romancin' a bit with Sioux City Sue
By the light of the old devil moon.

But I kissed her just once too often
'Cause she stole this heart of mine,
With a gun in my ribs she made me
Sign on the dotted line.

My beloved is rugged, I'm telling you,
She's seven women in one;
She ain't no saint I done found out,
She's a fighting son-of-a-gun!

My Mama never told me
About wild, wild women like Sue
I learned about love the hard way,
There's them that don't; there's them that do.

I thought I had a fine romance,
Oh, what it seemed to be!
But when she found I was low on dough,
She divorced me C. O. D!

Ain't that just like a woman?
It's a woman's prerogative, they say.
Now I may be easy, but I'm no fool
So I tipped my hat and slowly rode away.

That's why I left Wyoming.
I guess I was born to lose.
So now I'm homeless on the range,
Singing the cow-cow blues.

State Senate
Labor Program
Is Announced

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—The administration's labor program was announced Wednesday by the senate which labelled it a reflection "of the forceful expression of the voters last November."

Thirteen bills pending in the general assembly were endorsed by the senate, according to Sen. Clarence D. Becker (R) Lebanon, chairman of the Republican caucus.

"While some amendments may be necessary to the various bills in their present form, I am confident that the senate and house will agree in conference to a united program favorable to the Pennsylvania working man and to the public," he said.

Program Provisions
The proposed program would outlaw utility strikes and lockouts, outlaw strikes by government workers and teachers, deny jobless benefits to strikers, and increase the maximum unemployment compensation period from 20 to 24 weeks; prohibit picketing by persons not employed at struck plants, and require unions to file annual financial reports with the state.

Other planks in the program would ban pay discrimination because of sex, alter the labor relations act by prohibiting secondary boycotts in jurisdictional disputes, establish a mediation board to guide contract negotiations and delay strikes for at least 85 days, prohibit unions from closing membership rolls to trained workers, reduce employers' contributions to the jobless fund when they exceed 8.3 percent of total payrolls in Pennsylvania.

Prohibit unions rejected by employees from attempting to organize the same workers for at least a year, limit the sources which labor unions could tap for insurance premiums and limit group accident and health insurance funds established by employers.

Hoover - Marshall
Urge St. Lawrence
Seaway Project

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall and Herbert Hoover Wednesday urged Congress to give speedy approval to completion of the St. Lawrence seaway project as a major contribution to North American security.

Marshall told a senate foreign relations subcommittee that the seaway will greatly strengthen the defenses of the United States and Canada.

The former president declared that failure of the senate to ratify a U. S.-Canadian treaty in 1932 cost the Allies the immense benefit which would have resulted from use of the Seaway during World War II.

Eisenhower Calls
On Average Person
To Eliminate War

NEW YORK, May 29.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday called on the citizens of the United States to take the leadership in eliminating war from the world.

Eisenhower told the national board of the underwriters: "For too many generations too much of the world has taken it for granted that war is a normal part of human life whose penalties can be lessened not by rooting out the causes of the evil, but by maintaining so large and powerful a war machine that defeat would be impossible."

"The stake in the campaign is not property and dollars, no matter how wasteful war is of these commodities. It is not merely famine and pestilence for a given proportion of the earth's population. It is, rather, the way of life to which we are devoted; it is civilization as we know it. Even more, it is rapidly becoming humanity's existence. The earth may become a flowering garden or a sterile desert—and we make the difference."

"As I see it, we need an organized effort, embracing every phase of society, whose goal will be the development of individual, community and national attitudes that will remove war from the category of the inevitable into its proper position as an evil subject to prevention or at least control."

More than $2,000,000 is spent annually in the United States for rat traps and rat poisons.

the story of her meeting with Don in a Rochester glass factory, their engagement and their subsequent parting. Don disappeared, she wrote, and when he failed to return she decided to seek him in Martinsburg where he lived as a boy. Don's parents didn't know where he was, and leads to his whereabouts in other West Virginia towns also failed. But, she wrote, she will continue her search, hoping to find someone who knows where Don can be found.

Schedule Is Announced For Summer—Half Hour
Change Is Made

OTHER NEWS OF COUNTY AFFAIRS

Court house offices will go on an 8 to 4 schedule for the months of June, July and August. This action was decided upon by the county commissioners at the meeting on Wednesday morning.

Recently the bar association notified the commissioners their offices would operate from eight to four during the three summer months and the commissioners have revised their working schedule to suit.

The other nine months of the year the court house offices open at 8:30 and close at 4:30. The new schedule is one half hour earlier.

SUIT FILED

Asking a total of $31,169.50 in damages, Dremen S. Baxter and his wife Clara E. Baxter have filed suit against the Shenango Valley Transportation Company.

The suit arises out of an accident at the corner of Mill and Washington streets, December 21, 1946. Mrs. Baxter was crossing Washington street at Mill on a green light when a bus of the defendant company made the turn off Mill street and knocked her down. She was taken to the hospital for treatment.

The plaintiff argues that the sign on the traffic light at Mill and Washington says "No Turns" and Mrs. Baxter assumed that this meant all vehicles.

Both plaintiffs ask damages. Mr. Baxter asks $11,696.50, and Mrs. Baxter asks $20,000 of which $10,000 is for pain and suffering and $10,000 for occupational loss.

Pulaski Defeats New Wilmington

Golf League To Open Next Week

Announcement was made this morning by President Ben McCann, of the Sylvan Heights Golf League, that the soggy condition of the ground at Sylvan Heights, has again forced the postponement of play in the league.

The league was scheduled to open last week, but because of the incessant rain, it was deferred until this week. The same condition exists, McCann states, and heavy play at this time, would cause great harm to the greens. Teams must have their rosters in by Sunday, McCann states.

The East Side Merchants softball team will play the Vet All-Stars at the Lehigh field Friday at 2 o'clock, it was announced. This should be an interesting game as the Vets will be out to avenge an earlier setback at the hands of the Merchants.

Southern Coal Producers In Wage Parley

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Southern coal producers began separate bargaining conference Wednesday with the United Mine Workers Union looking toward a contract to replace the government-union agreement June 30.

Although contract talks between the UMW and northern and western mine owners have been under way for approximately two weeks, the southern producers declined to participate. They insisted upon a separate negotiating session.

UMW Vice President John O'Leary headed the miners delegation which opened discussions this morning with southern operators representing approximately 25 per cent of the nation's annual bituminous coal output.

Henry F. Warden, of McComas, W. Va., president of the American Coal Co., headed the southern operators delegation, while Lawrence Tierney Jr., of Bluefield, W. Va., acted as chairman of the meeting. Tierney is president of the Eastern Coal Corp.

Bargaining talks between UMW and northern and western mine owners, representing 75 per cent of the country's soft coal tonnage, were to resume at 2:30 this afternoon. UMW Chief John L. Lewis is participating in these negotiations.

American Wolves, Four-Legged Types, Becoming Extinct

Biologist Says Fierce Predatory Animal
Vanishing From American Scene

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Pretty soon there won't be any wolves on the American scene. They're almost gone now. The United States government has seen to that.

They don't say he's vanishing from the scene of the cocktail lounge, but they do say the four-legged carnivorous kind won't be roaming through the country much more.

The good news for those bothered with wolves—one of the most predatory animals in civilization—comes today from Stanley P. Young, head biologist of the Fish and Wildlife Service, who says:

"It is doubtful if the wolf will ever be completely extirpated in North America as he was in Europe. But he will survive only to the extent that his habitat remains remote from man's activities in agriculture and conservation."

In other words, he can roam only so long as he avoids the path of man—but how long can he avoid such an expanding path?

Young says the wolf is a menace "locally, in some spots" today in Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where the red wolf lives. Also, in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Oregon, howling-ground for the grey wolf.

War against the wolf has waged in this country since the introduction of livestock at Jamestown, Va., but the animal continued to devour millions of dollars worth of sheep and cattle until the Department of Agriculture took the helm in 1915.

TAX ALLOCATION

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—The House Republican caucus on Wednesday approved a $200,000,000 gasoline tax allocation to cities, boroughs and townships.

Majority Leader Herbert P. Sorel said the rebate from a one-cent temporary levy would be earmarked at the rate of $10,000,000 to cities, boroughs and first class townships, and an identical sum to second class townships.

Local distributions would be figured on a mileage basis. Sorel said the caucus voted against increasing the total four-cent gasoline levy.

Home Building Permit Changes Set For June 1

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon announced Wednesday that beginning June 1 federal permits no longer will be required for persons wishing to build homes for themselves or for veterans.

On the same date, the limit on the number of bathroom fixtures to be installed in a new house will be removed and the 1500 square foot limitation on homes will be expanded to 2,000 square feet.

Creedon said that persons who already have obtained federal permits may adopt the more liberal provisions.

The expediter emphasized, however, that remaining controls will be continued "until conditions permit further relaxation or unless Congress directs their removal before then."

Creedon explained that the permit system is being discontinued in order to "simplify the few remaining restrictions."

JAPANESE WOMEN WEARING SKIRTS IN BRITISH ZONE

KURE, Japan, May 29.—(INS)—The high command in the British occupation zone of Japan noted today that skirts are replacing kimonos among Japanese women in the British zone.

Headquarters also had a partial explanation for the new mode of dress. The increasing popularity of the skirt over the kimono was "attributed to a minor extent to the killed dress of the queens' own Cameron Highlanders."

The killed Highlanders spent a year of occupation duty in Japan. They were said to have created "great curiosity" among the Japanese.

Geographically, Canada is the biggest country in the Americas.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burnings sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
